There are, however, several variations of this type of question appearing on the exam. The most commonly used formats are:

Closed-Stem Item: In this type of question, the examinee is asked a question and given four possible answers from which to choose. Example:

Which of the following is a type of social network?

- (A) Google
- (B) Facebook
- (C) Bing
- (D) Yahoo Answer: B

Sentence Completion Item: This question is characterized by an incomplete sentence, followed by options that represent conclusions to that sentence.

Example:

- (A) McAfee Institute
- $(B)\ The\ Federal\ Bureau\ of\ Investigation\ (FBI)$
- (C) American Society of Crime Laboratory Directors (ASCLD)
- (D) National Lab Society Answer: C

EXCEPT Format: In this type of question, an examinee is required to recognize that there are three correct responses within the question. The respondent does this by identifying the incorrect option. A variation on this type of question is to use the word NOT instead of EXCEPT in the stem, in the form of, "Which one of the following is NOT..."

Example The steps in the evidence include all of the following EXCEPT

- (A) Collection and identification
- (B) Storage and Retrieval for Court
- (C) Presented in court
- (D) Selling at the auction Answer: D

True/False: This question is answered by picking out if the question is true or false.

- (A) True
- (B) False Answer: A
